FBI Checks Houses, Cars In Kidnapers Hunt

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The FBI dispatched a dozen men to the San Fernando Valley north of Hollywood during the night arousing speculation that agents might be on the trail of suspects in the Frank Sinatra Jr. kidnaping case.

The FBI acknowledged it had men in the area but wouldn't say what they were doing.

Checking Houses, Cars

Newsman learned through police that several residents of the area telephoned the West Valley Police Station saying men believed to be FBI agents were checking houses on one street and stopping cars at intersections in the same neighborhood.

Officer Gene Radomski of the West Valley division of the Los Angeles police department said it was "strictly an FBI operation." He said police hadn't been told the nature of the FBI activity but assumed it was connected with the Sinatra case.

Department In Dark

Wednesday, after Sinatra Jr. was returned to his family for $240,000 ransom, Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker complained his department was left completely in the dark on developments in the case.

"This is the first time in my memory that we have been faced with probable criminal activity in the city of Los Angeles and have been unable to (respond)," Parker said at a news conference. "We have always worked as a team with law enforcement agencies."

Parker said he didn't want to interfere with the FBI. "I'm sure they had adequate reason for not bringing us in," he said. "I am just pointing out our position. I am concerned with the criticism we may ultimately receive in a case which we have been deprived of any opportunity to solve."

Numbers Slips Case Before Top Court

County Prosecutor G. William Brokaw will appear with Atty. Ted Genser of the state attorney general's office who will argue the state's case against the Lisbon Sales Book Co. and four of its officers before the Ohio Supreme Court over the weekend.

The Lisbon firm and its officers were indicted by the September 1961 grand jury for printing numbers waging slips. The firm was raided by former Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy Sept. 6, 1961, a few days after a new Ohio law, making it illegal to manufacture gambling slips, went into effect.

Common Pleas Court Judge Joel H. Sharp dismissed the indictments in December 1961, declaring the law was unconstitutional because it does not take into consideration intention or knowledge by the manufacturer of the use to which the printed forms are to be put.

The 7th District Court of Appeals reversed Judge Sharp's ruling Feb. 19.

The company and its officers, Martin Sufrin, Isadore Sufrin, Joseph Sufrin and Michael Scheldmeier, all of Pittsburgh, took the case to the Supreme Court.

Brokaw, who will observe the court proceedings, also is attending the state prosecutors convention in Columbus today through Saturday.

Churchmen Seek Hostages' Release

ORURO, Bolivia (AP) — Catholic Church leaders were reported today trying to secure the release of a group of hostages, including four Americans, held by Communist-led tin miners.

A standoff prevailed between government troops and armed miners in the Catavi area where the hostages were held as pawns for two Communist union leaders arrested by President Victor Paz Estenssoro's government. The government still insisted it would not trade the arrested men for the hostages.

Msgr. Andrew Kennedy of St. Louis, Mo., a member of the staff of the Catholic vicar general in La Paz, arrived in Oruro en route to Catavi, 30 miles away.

Informed sources said Msgr. Kennedy had been in contact with representatives of the miners' union and the miners were willing to have him mediate the dispute.

The priest was also said to be carrying a letter to the miners from the two jailed union leaders, Irineo Pimentel and Federico Escobar. Both have been indicted on charges of sabotaging government mine operations, attempted murder and promoting anarchy.

There was no word of any direct negotiations between the government and the miners for release of the hostages. But tension in the area eased somewhat after a Defense Ministry statement said troops would not move against the defiant miners and President Paz Estenssoro drawn from Catavi.

There were conflicting reports

Mallery to Run For Sheriff's Job May 7

Edward W. Mallery of 1471 Franklin Ave., who retired from the Ohio Highway Patrol Nov. 12 after a 24-year career, will be a candidate for sheriff of Columbiana County at the Democrat primary next May.

Mallery, who was sergeant in charge of the Lisbon post of the Highway Patrol before his recent retirement, made his announcement today to run for sheriff.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan, who is a Republican, announced last week that he would seek re-election to a third term. He is from East Palestine.

Mallery's announcement comes on the heels of his recent appointment as Salem city safety director, a post he would have to give up Dec. 31, 1964, if he were to be elected sheriff. The sheriff's job pays $7,300 annually. The safety directors post pays $200 a month.

Mallery, who is to take over his duties as safety director on Monday, was honored at a testimonial dinner given by former patrol associates and other law enforcement officers of the district last night at the American Legion Home in Lisbon.

In his 24 years on the highway patrol, Mallery served assignments in Chillicothe, Kent, Massillon, Salem and Lisbon.

Storm Dumps 2.3 Inches of Snow on City

A widespread winter storm dumped more than two inches of snow on Salem last night, and the forecast is for continuing flurries through Friday.

Total accumulation was 2.3 inches in the city. The mercury hit its low of 20 degrees during the night at 2 a.m. and then began a gradual rise. At 7 a.m. today, the temperature was 32 in Salem.

County and city workers were out in force last night salting and ashing streets and highways.

The U. S. Weather Bureau issued hazardous driving warnings along with the outlook for heavy snow in Northern Ohio and freezing rain and drizzle causing icy conditions in the southern and central parts of the state.

Up to four inches of snow already covered parts of the state by 1 a.m. Youngstown had four inches at that time and Akron, Dayton, Cleveland and Columbus two inches. More was expected to accumulate by daybreak in the north.

Earlier, the forecast had been for deep accumulation in the rest of the state as well. But instead of continuing past midnight as expected, snow let up in most sectors and the Weather Bureau said it apparently was

Holiday Mail May Set Record

Post Office Open Daily Except Sunday

With 108,250 Christmas cards already mailed at the Salem post office, Postmaster Ray Reasbeck expressed the opinion today that holiday mail this season will set a record.

A total pieces of mail handled last year was 623,000.

The Post Office is now open daily from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday, for the convenience of the public.

A peak in holiday mail is expected Monday or Tuesday.

Postal clerks will be working day and night in processing mail.

"The heaviest rush is still to come," he commented.

The Postmaster stated that the present flow of Christmas cards is running about the same as last year, but the mailing of gift parcels is lagging somewhat. He suggests that packages to most distant points be sent by air mail from now on.

Speaking about Christmas gift packages, the postmaster said, "I cannot emphasize too strongly the vital need for packing and wrapping your Christmas gifts securely. Pack all your gifts in sturdy cartons, wrap them with heavy paper, and tie them securely with strong cord. It is sometimes hard to understand why people will be so careless about putting valuable Christmas gifts into the mails in flimsy boxes and loosely wrapped packages. Many of these poorly wrapped gifts simply cannot stand the necessary handling, and thus cause much delay and disappointment all around."

The Postmaster further suggests that it is best to print the recipient's full name, street address, city, zone or ZIP Code number and state on all mailing labels, making sure to include an extra label inside your gift packages.

He recommends Christmas cards be sent by first class mail, using the new five cent Christmas Tree stamps. "Be sure to include your name and address on the envelopes and you'll help your friends to keep their mailing lists up-to-date," he added.

Tips For Mailing He listed the following tips for holiday mailing:

Don't mail money in Christmas gifts or parcels. Use Post-

Manufacturers Join Chamber As Affiliate

The Salem Area Chamber of Commerce and the Salem Manufacturers Association jointly announced today the affiliation of the Manufacturers Association as a division of the Chamber of Commerce.

Formal adoption of the application of the manufacturers group was made at the monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce.

Planning arrangement had been carried on for many months toward this accomplishment by the two groups, headed by Lozier Caplan, president of the Salem Area Chamber of Commerce, and E. A. Thomas, president of the Salem Manufacturers Association.

Quebec Earth Movement Swallows Up Four Brothers

ST. JOACHIM DE TOURELLE, Que. (AP) — A second earth movement today sent two houses tumbling into a sea of mud which swallowed up four brothers in a truck and three other houses Wednesday night. The first earth movement also demolished a highway bridge and carried four homes into the St. Lawrence River.

Quebec provincial police working throughout the night to help this stricken and alarmed Gaspé Peninsula community, ordered 10 houses evacuated.

Except for the brothers, no other deaths were reported in the sudden earth shift in this small Gaspé Peninsula community 275 miles northeast of Quebec. But the situation was so confused that officials said there may have been more fatalities.

A pit 150 feet deep and a half square mile in area was opened in the Tourelle Creek Valley 500 to 1,000 feet above the Gaspé Highway.

Quebec provincial police said a car also was swallowed up by the earth movement but that its occupants—a couple—were pulled out of the mud by rope.

The truck carrying the brothers vanished. They were identified as Johnny Therrien, 32; and his brothers, Raymond, 28; benoit, 22, and Onesime, 20.

Constable Martin Gauthier said fishermen in three boats rescued at least six persons from the houses swept into the river. No other occupants were believed lost.

The disaster came at 5:30 p.m. with a trembling of the earth.

An elderly woman whose house was carried away said she barely had time to left up the telephone and ask the operator to get help. Within moments

Fischer Quints May Be Home For Christmas

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—The Fischer quintuplets, three months old next Saturday, probably will all be home for Christmas.

Arrangements are being made for two of the four girls to go home Saturday noon. James Andrew, the only boy, went home Nov. 30. The other girls should go home soon, too.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fischer, are acquiring more domestic help for their rented home in northeast Aberdeen.

James Andrew went home when he weighed 10 pounds, 5 ounces. He has been described by the family as "a very good baby." Fischer has said there have been no problems at the Fischer home since the boy left St. Luke's Hospital.

She fled the dwelling just before it was swept away amid chunks of earth as big as the house.

The giant earth movement also tore up a portion of a secondary road on which the truck and car were traveling. The thick grey mud moved down the hillside into the bed of Tourelle Creek and into the St. Lawrence River.

On its way it knocked out the 50-foot Gaspé Highway bridge that crosses the creek just before it feeds into the St. Lawrence.

It was a near-zero, stormy night and police had to use ski-equipped vehicles.

A Red Cross volunteer from nearby Ste. Anne Des Monts described the disaster scene:

"There was a gap in the highway. No one could get across. People were standing on both sides, scared and afraid. There were no light, no telephones,

Cabinet Notified: Help Cut Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has put members of his Cabinet on notice that he expects them to give their personal attention to his campaign to hold down federal spending.

Winding up another busy day in which he again put heavy emphasis on economy in government, Johnson called in his Cabinet Wednesday to talk over a variety of matters.

These included, in addition to the federal payroll, the health of the nation's economy, unemployment and methods for dealing with it and an evaluation of the strategic nuclear forces of the United States and the Soviet Union by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

The Cabinet meeting followed a trip by Johnson to the Pentagon where he told top men of the military establishment that he is counting on them to protect the country's purse as well as its safety.

But Johnson assured the military leaders that he does not "intend for one moment to give up the gains and strength" of the last three years.

White House sources said Dr. Walter W. Heller, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, reported to Johnson that the gross national product—the value of all goods and services produced—soon will pass $600 billion at an annual rate.

Heller reported that the economy is moving ahead steadily but not fast enough to cut down the current unemployment rate of about 5.9 per cent of the labor force.

Mrs. Kennedy Buys Home

14-Room House In Georgetown

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy has purchased a 169-year-old Georgetown house with 14 rooms and plans to move in with her two children by mid-January.

The three-story brick home is across the street from the residence of Undersecretary of State and Mrs. W. Averell Harriman, where Mrs. Kennedy is living temporarily.

Purchase of the property at 3017 N Street was announced Wednesday, five days after Mrs. Kennedy moved out of the White House.

The price Mrs. Kennedy paid the owners, retired businessman James McKilligan Gibson and his wife, was not revealed. But the house had been on the market for some time listed at $225,000. Recently, the asking price had been dropped to about $190,000, real estate agents in the area said.

The house is one of the oldest in Georgetown, a commercial and residential area founded even before the District of Columbia was established.

A wealthy early settler, Ninian Beall, built it for his son, Thomas. The house has been the residence of the late Adm. Alan G. Kirk and onetime Secretary of War Newton D. Baker.

The 14 rooms include a spacious first-floor drawing room and dining room, with a master bedroom and library on the second floor, each with a fireplace.

Before moving in Mrs. Kennedy may take her two children, Caroline, 6, and John Jr., 3, to Palm Beach for the Christmas season they traditionally spend with their grandparents there. Meanwhile, President Johnson signed into law Wednesday a special bill to give Mrs. Kennedy and her children Secret Service protection for the next two years. It also provides for office space for 12 months and $50,000 for staff salaries during that period.

State Rep. Wetzel Is Candidate Again

Clarence L. "Dutch" Wetzel, Republican, yesterday filed his petition for renomination as state Representative from Columbiana County, with the Board of Elections. He is seeking his eighth term.

Wetzel, who is chairman of the mines and natural resources committee and serving his third term as a member of the finance committee, filed eight petitions with 200 names.

Announcement By McNamara Expected Today

12,000 Employees May Lose Jobs; Congressmen Irked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, beset by furious congressmen, was expected to announce today economy-induced plans to close or reduce operations at 25 to 27 military bases in about 16 states.

Reports from congressional sources late Wednesday forecast shutdown of more than 30 installations, with the loss of 75,000 jobs.

But it was learned McNamara's action will affect several bases fewer than that, and result in abolition of 9,000 to 12,000 jobs.

There were indications the bases, large and small, would be phased out over perhaps three years.

No Shipyards On List

No naval shipyards were on the list of Army, Navy and Air Force bases due to be axed or reduced in scope.

Rumors Wednesday said McNamara would move to close naval shipyards in Boston, Philadelphia and San Francisco. One base in Ohio also was mentioned.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., acting for the entire Massachusetts delegation, carried to President Johnson Wednesday night a bipartisan protest against rumored closing of the Boston Navy Yard.

Other protests rained on the White House from Pennsylvania, California, New York and other state congressional groups.

Johnson has emphasized economy since succeeding his late President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22.

Total of Defense Study

Johnson told a news conference last Saturday he and McNamara were making a study of defense installations to determine which could be eliminated as a way of curbing spending.

Police Dog Got His Man, But It Was Wrong One

CINCINNATI (AP)—After all, "Max" has been taught only to capture a running man. How is he to know the difference between a policeman and a fugitive?

"Max" is one of the Cincinnati Police Department dogs. His mistake Wednesday was that he bit a policeman instead of the man the officer was chasing.

Patrolman Jerry Runnels had stopped a motorist at a traffic light for an apparent violation. The man had no identification and when Runnels started taking him to the nearby police station, the man broke loose and started to run. Runnels took up the chase.

Patrolman James Kirk with "Max" appeared on the scene and Kirk gave the command for the dog to give chase. "Max" grabbed Runnels and pulled him to the ground. The fugitive escaped.

Lt. Robert Welz, in charge of the Police Canine Corps, explained that the dogs are trained only to grab a running man when commanded to do so by their handler.

Runnels was treated at General Hospital and released. The car turned out to be stolen.

Ex-Steel Chief Succumbs at 65

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Avery C. Adams, who began his career as a laborer in an open hearth department at Warren, Ohio, and became top man in Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., will be laid to rest in his native Youngstown, Ohio, Saturday. Adams, 65, died of a heart attack in his Pittsburgh apartment Wednesday.

The funeral will be in Pittsburgh Saturday.

Adams started out in 1919 as a millhand for the Trumbull Steel Co. in Warren. Through the years he steadily advanced in management posts with Republic Steel, General Fireproofing, Carnegie-Illinois Steel, Inland Steel, U.S. Steel, Portsmouth Steel Co. in 1950 and joined J. & L. as president in 1956. # Robert Kennedy Easing Back Into Public Activities

WASHINGTON (AP) — Slowly and quietly, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy is easing back into the public life that was so shattering altered by an assassin's bullet three weeks ago.

He still is the attorney general, the nation's top law enforcement officer, even though he no longer holds the intimate White House role he delighted in when his brother, John F. Kennedy, was president.

He attended a groundbreaking ceremony Wednesday — his first official public appearance since his brother's funeral. He didn't say anything. He just stood and watched. The playground is in the heart of the city, and he frequently has shown concern for the city's underprivileged children.

He has made no public statement of his plans. He has permitted no news interviews.

But the general understanding continues to be that the 38-year-old attorney general will remain on the job as long as President Johnson wants him to.

"I'm not worried about Bob one bit," one close friend said. "I'm convinced he'll always be in public life—and that he will get along just as fine on his own as when he was part of that brother team. But as far as I know, he's kept his own counsel

Changing the Succession Law

If there is going to be another shakeup of the presidential succession law, Congress should start the next time with a list of things it does not want to do.

The last time, it started with one thing it did want to do—move the speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives to the head of the line of succession, right after the vice president,—it overlooked everything else, including the present situation of aged Speaker John W. McCormack being in line for the presidency.

FIRST, it should not try to shift executive authority from the executive branch to the legislative branch, which is the effect of the present succession law putting the speaker of the House of Representatives and the president pro tem of the Senate ahead of Cabinet members.

Second, it should not make it possible for executive authority to be shifted from the party whose candidate won the presidency to the party that lost the presidency. There should be assurance of political continuity. If Republicans control the presidency, they should continue to control it, regardless of what happens to the men who headed the ticket.

This principle has been solidly established in government. It is illogical and unfair to shift an office from one party to another because of an incumbent's death while serving a term. Whenever politicians do it, because they have not been forbidden to do it by law, they detract from the respect they would like to have from their constituents.

IF NOTHING better comes to mind, succession law revisers might give thought the next time around to putting party leaders of the House and Senate next to the vice president, if they don't want to return to the former plan of Cabinet members, starting with the secretary of state.

This would guarantee party continuity, even though shifting authority from the executive to the legislative branch of government.

Everybody Feel Safer?

The whole country is relieved by the safe return of Frank Sinatra Jr. released by kidnappers after being held for ransom two days.

If this crime against the security of an individual had turned out fatally national misgivings about a rising rate of violence would have reached near-hysteria. It would have been considered necessary for every family of large means to hire bodyguards for all its members.

Americans would have had to concede a point about private citizens that they not only concede but now insist on in the instance of their chief executive—that no one can be considered safe unless elaborate precautions have been taken to ward off potential danger.

It is being pointed out in an attempt to refute claims that danger is rampant that things now are not as bad as they have been at various times in the past.

There were the wild and woolly days in Chicago; they're still wild and woolly. There were the gangster killings in New York; gangsters are still killing one another there.

The Sinatra kidnapping is a revival of a crime that had become so epidemic it caused a federal law to be enacted, making kidnapping a capital offense after the Lindberg incident.

Are things better now?
Does everybody feel safer than before?

If money could really talk it couldn't afford to say much these days.

The nicest grand opening of the year will come Christmas morning.

Some teen-age boys need a good belt to make them buckle down.

Desecration

By Truman Twill

When we celebrated the 92nd birthday of the lady I have known longest and fondest, everything went well except the singing.

Her annual birthday party is customarily held in a public place. The singing has turned into a standing problem. We aren't singers in our family.

Another lady's birthday was being celebrated at the next table. From the looks of her she couldn't have been more than 60, but her table mates sang out like good fellows anyway.

They were terrible. We clapped for them because our turn was coming. But they were terrible — all three of them.

There were seven of us. But when it came time to beller "Happy Birthday" there was no comfort in numbers. We were twice as terrible. None of us could do credit to "Three Blind Mice," let alone hit the high note in "Happy Birthday."

OUR forthcoming travail hung over us during the whole meal. It blighted the bearing in of the cake by the excellent waiter who was taking care of everything.

It laid a cold hand on the banter that belongs with birthday parties.

Can't something be done about the tradition that nonsingers must belt out a tune beyond their capabilities at birthday parties.

They applauded us at the next table when we had finished caterwauling. But we had been as terrible as they had been. If there had been any doubt about it the pitying smiles of the other diners clinched the fact.

Habitués of the adjoining bar had come to the door of their hideaway to see if a cat had been stepped on.

This is the way it is every time. My brother is tone-deaf. My voice has been ruined by decades of sinus-suffering.

The lady I live with is famous for imitations of "Gravel Gertie."

My sister-in-law may sing like a bird for all I know because when the singing gets started all I ever hear is the discordant sound of the wind whistling through my own rusty pipes.

ON THIS particular occasion, the other celebrants — all estimable people, friends of my mother, though younger — couldn't have called a hog among them. They were totally inadequate.

Yet here we were in a public dining room in a respectable place sounding like a gaggle of drunken bums in a waterfront dive. It was desecration. We were celebrating a 92nd birthday!

Even on my own birthdays I dread the tradition of singing "Happy Birthday," though all I need to do is listen.

Can't something be done about it? No one would think of playing the violin if he didn't know how. Where did we get the idea of singing?

"... And anyone slowing up this committee is going to get a gavel on the head..."

'Tis the Season to Be Jolly

Cuba: Communist Paradise?

By VICTOR RIESEL
SAN JUAN, P.R. — When I breakfasted in Caracas recently with Romulo Betancourt, president of Venezuela, we ate in a home protected by machine guns. The President was cautious but not frightened, though Fidel Castro's men had attempted to kill him several times.

Those machine guns, said Betancourt, will do no good against a distant sniper with a high powered rifle. He could pick you off, poof, like that.

We spoke then of the young men and women who had sniped at fast cars bringing travellers in from the airport and of the university students standing on a knoll on school grounds taking pot-shots at people in nearby buildings.

They believe themselves revolutionaries, said Betancourt. They answer Castro's constant broadcast calls for a revolution in your country as well as mine.

The bearded one, Betancourt added, has convinced these young Marxists that he has built a workers' paradise on his island.

I recalled the words of the Venezuelan president during my stay in Puerto Rico — where I'm representing a government committee at a Caribbean conference called by the American Foundation on Automation and Employment, Inc.

WHY ARE some young people willing to kill for Communism? Is it that capitalism, with all its Madison Avenues, can't tell its story?

Here are two islands — Puerto Rico and Cuba. Both were freed by the United States from Spain. Both are lush and in the almost perpetual sun.

But Cuba has been dragged into the black hole of poverty and starvation, while Puerto Rico has pulled itself up by its "Operation Bootstrap" into a second phase which its leaders now call "Operation Serenity."

Cuba's per capita income now is $185 a year. Food, medicines, shoes, clothing, electric power, spare parts and the simplest of conveniences, such as razor blades, are rationed. Yet as recently as 1957, the per capita income was $374 a year, making Cuba fourth in per capita income in all of the Caribbean and Latin America.

In 1958, just before Castro came to power, Cuba occupied fifth place among all nations — of the world — in the percentage of total national income devoted to work remuneration.

FULLY TWO THIRDS of the island's income went to workers.

In this respect, only three Western Hemisphere countries and one European nation surpassed Cuba. These were the United States, Canada, Panama and Great Britain.

Yet today the average income of each Cuban is about $350 a year.

Compare this with Puerto Rico, which Castro vows he will "free."

Some 20 years ago Puerto Rican per capita income was $121 a year. Today it is over $600 a year — more than three times that of once prosperous Cuba.

Ten years ago there were fewer than 60,000 Puerto Rican families which had an income of $3,000 or more. Today more than 120,000 families top this figure.

When "Operation Bootstrap" began, Puerto Rico's annual net income was $225 million. Ten years later it hit $633 million. Today it is over $1.75 billion. In a few years total income will pass the three billion dollar mark.

How was this accomplished? Simple free enterprise. I the 90s Puerto Rico was the pauper of the Caribbean.

It had a one crop economy—sugar. Now it has more than 800 diversified modern manufacturing plants. New ones—including the first automobile parts factory (being built by Ford) — are going up at the rate of over 100 installations a year.

PUERTO RICO'S workers are free people. Compare this then with the 125,000 members of Cuba's National Federation of Construction Workers.

On the night of Sept. 11, the heavy equipment workers, members of the federation, met in Havana's National Labor Palace. They passed resolutions protesting low pay, long hours and brutal treatment.

When Castro's labor chief, Lazaro Pena tried to quiet them, they shouted: "We are hungry. We want freedom! We want work!"

This is symptomatic of Cuba's "paradise." There is heavy unemployment. There are wages so low they are practically sub-subsistence pay. There is no freedom — no freedom to strike, to leave one's job, to bargain collectively. There is no minimum wage, no overtime pay, no holiday pay, no pay for lunch breaks, no paid sick leave, no Christmas bonus, no protection against arbitrary discharge.

There is only speed-up on the assembly line, starvation in the homes, forced labor — unpaid — in the sugar fields at harvest time.

Is this the "paradise" for which some young people fight?

Ann Landers ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: Our very handsome son is going to marry a nice girl who was crippled in an accident during childhood. The girl is not noticeably deformed but she has a bad limp. This does not seem to matter to my son.

The girl's mother is making arrangements for a church wedding and it appears that they plan to go all out. Since the girl has this bad limp, don't you feel it would be in better taste if they had a modified ceremony and not the traditional one where the bride walks down the aisle on her father's arm? She could come from the side of the pulpit and be spared public display of her handicap.

My husband says he doesn't want to get involved in this. Do you feel I should mention it to my son, to the girl or to her mother? They are accustomed to the girl's limp so naturally they do not see it as others do. A word from someone objective, such as myself, seems in order.

Please advise — MOTHER OF THE GROOM.

Dear Mother: Keep quiet and let the bride and her mother make whatever wedding plans they wish. The girl deserves a great deal of credit for adjusting to her problem. In my opinion you are more handicapped than she is.

Double Jeopardy

Dear Ann: I am a secretary to a wealthy and prominent businessman. My work - load is tremendous but because I'm a conscientious person I manage to keep current by coming in early and working late.

The problem is the boss' wife. She waltzes in three or four times a week and says, "Write a letter to so-and-so," and then she begins to dictate. Sometimes I spend two hours on her social and organizational letter writing. By rights this woman should hire a private secretary.

My boss has a partner who also has a wife but she never comes near the office nor would she dream of taking advantage of his secretary this way.

What should I do? Complain to my boss? Complain to the boss' partner? Or quit? I love my job but this woman is too much for me. — BURNED UP.

Dear Burned Up: You always can quit — and you may well be invited to do just that after you complain to the boss, which, in my opinion, is the wise thing to do.

Curt Or Courteous?

Dear Ann: Last evening our son, who soon will be 14, received a telephone call from a girl who is in his room at school.

Rick answered the phone. When he heard the girl's voice he replied, "Yes, I'm going to the game tomorrow but I have to do my homework now. Good-bye."

His mother praised Rick for his directness, because, as she put it, "girls should not be telephoning boys."

I felt that Rick had been rude and that he should not be so curt in the future—no matter who calls.

Please give us your views. If I am wrong I would appreciate being straightened out.—SPO-KANE READER.

Dear Spoke: This is going to be a split decision—60 for you and 40 for the opposition. Girls should not be calling boys. But Rick could have been more gentle. It was not necessary to saw her off so abruptly. Even at 13, a boy should know the value of a little oil to lubricate the machinery of human relations.

Election Fault

By DAVID LAWRENCE
There never has been a period like the present in American politics. It baffles the opposition party, of course, but it points up as well a far more startling weakness in the presidential system than even the law by which successors to a president who dies in office are designated. The weakness is the obligation written in the Constitution requiring that presidential and congressional elections be held at fixed times.

No vice president who has succeeded to the presidency heretofore has had such a short unexpired term to serve as does President Lyndon Johnson. There are less than 11 months before the next presidential election.

When President Lincoln was assassinated in April 1865, there were three years and 11 months ahead for Andrew Johnson before the end of the presidential term. He was not elected for another term.

When President James A. Garfield died in September 1881 from wounds inflicted by an assassin, there were three years and six months before the next inauguration date. His successor as president, Chester A. Arthur, was not renominated by the Republican party.

When President McKinley was shot in September 1901, there were three years and six months in the White House ahead for Vice President Theodore Roosevelt, and the latter was inaugurated in his own right on March 4, 1905.

AS FOR the presidents who did not meet a violent death but passed away as a result of illness while in office, they, too, left to their successors fairly long unexpired terms. Thus, President William Henry Harrison died one month after his inauguration in 1841 and was succeeded by John Tyler, who did not serve another term. Vice President Millard Fillmore, who succeeded President Zachary Taylor in 1850, had two years and eight months to serve as president but did not win the nomination for another term.

In more recent times, Vice President Coolidge had a year and seven months in the presidency before the end of President Harding's term, but Vice President Truman, who succeeded President Franklin D. Roosevelt in April 1945, had three years and more than nine months before he finished the unexpired term.

Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Truman, respectively, were then elected president for a four - year term of their own.

President Lyndon Johnson will have had about 14 months in office — the shortest period of all — in filling out the current term, and he will be confronted with a presidential campaign beginning less than nine months from now. In virtually all other cases where a vice president has succeeded to the top office, there has been time for a record to be made, and hence both parties have had an opportunity to establish their principles in the mind of the electorate.

Mr. Johnson must go before the people largely on the record of his predecessor.

WHEN THE ISSUES on which such intense opposition was provoked in the last two years or more are examined, it will be found that the new president will have a difficult task convincing those independent voters who disapproved of Kennedy policies that he shares their concern, while at the same time he will have to prove to the Kennedy followers that he is holding the line that the preceding president championed.

The truth is that the period before the presidential election in 1964 is too short for both sides. Under a parliamentary system, the selection of the chief executive is not held on fixed dates but only when the consensus in a country demands that the voters be given a chance to approve or disapprove of the incumbent legislature and administration.

A majority vote in the parliament fixes the time for the election.

In the United States, today, campaigns are longer than they are in Britain. Yet with plenty of TV and radio time available, there is no real necessity for barnstorming tours and long trips by the presidential candidates.

The late President Kennedy felt that he had to make many personal appearances in different parts of the United States as early as a year before the election. He actually was on a political trip to Texas last month, though there were some nonpolitical gatherings that he addressed on the same journey.

The theory has been advanced that a TV appearance discussing national issues doesn't take the place of hand-shaking with local politicians.

IF, HOWEVER, elections were not required at fixed intervals — but only when a major national issue was up for decision by the voters — there would be no need for the numerous campaign trips before the national conventions which some presidents in both parties have felt they had to make.

The difficulty with a fixed election date is that often no single issue happens to be outstanding at the moment. Yet, perhaps a few months later, something of vital importance does come up and public opinion then has no opportunity of expressing itself on that issue at the polls. There are many things besides the law of presidential succession which need careful examination nowadays. The basic need is that the will of the people shall be expressed at an opportune time and someone chosen for the presidency who will deal with particular issues as the people desire.

Honest Actor

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The honesty of Tom Tryon, who may be Hollywood's next big star, is as impressive as his acting ability.

A year ago Tom, who is 6 feet 4, dark and handsome, was a good journeyman actor well-known to movie and television producers, but comparatively unknown to the public.

Then Otto Preminger picked him over 20 other candidates for one of the best roles on the movie horizon for some time.

The title role is in "The Cardinal."

After viewing some of the early scenes, Preminger signed Tryon, who looks much like Bishop Sheen and Sir Laurence Olivier, for five more films.

Tom is neither Irish nor Catholic. He is of Dutch-English descent, and as a youth in Hartford, Conn., attended a typical New England Congregational church — "You know, big, white steeple, white pillars, and hard seats."

Although fascinated by the ritual of the Catholic Church, Tryon said his experience in portraying "The Cardinal" had not made him any more religious.

"I'm in no sense a convert," he said frankly. "But after President Kennedy's death — I don't usually go to church too often — I felt the need of being in one, and I went into a Catholic church, and I lit a candle for him."

"I felt at home there," he said.

Tom, who studied painting at Yale University, spent three years in the Navy. He didn't decide to become an actor until after he had tried a few walk-on parts in a summer stock company and performed such other theatrical chores as holding up television cue cards.

After an apprenticeship on Broadway, Tom worked in about 10 films and more than a hundred television shows before Preminger, who has always had a canny eye for a promising newcomer, gave him the biggest break of his career.

"Television gives you the chance to learn to act in front of 10 million people," Tryon said. "But the trouble with it is that the industry has become too imitative. As soon as anyone comes up with a bright new idea, everyone else rushes in and tries to copy it."

"Now it is just rubber stamping sausages."

Tom said that one of the funniest things about his recent fame came when a fan magazine writer asked him to name "all the disasters in your life, such as whether you mother ever fell down the stairs, and things like that."

When Tryon couldn't think of any, he said the writer finally asked him in desperation:

"Well, didn't you at least have acne when you were a kid?"

N. Georgetown Lutheran Women See Christmas Play

A play, "A Christmas Parable," directed by Mrs. Keith Griffith, was presented when 29 members of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church Women of North Georgetown met Monday evening in the church.

Participating in the play were: Mrs. Larry Iler, Mrs. Dale Berger, Mrs. Willis Green-eisen, Mrs. Jesse Galbreath, Miss Jean Wang, Miss Birdena Berger, Mrs. Ross Boingegrain, Mrs. Vera Stackhouse, Mrs. George Sheen, Mrs. Paul Wang, Mrs. Lowell Buckman, Mrs. Claude Berger, Mrs. Cecil Boone, Mrs. Clara Antram, Mrs. Charles Somers and Mrs. David Bauman. Mrs. Antram was piano accompanist for the Christmas hymns sung during the presentation of the play.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Roy Thornton who read the Christmas story from the Gospel of St. Luke. Mrs. Floyd Kniseley presided at the business portion of the meeting during which it was decided to send gifts of money to members of the congregation serving with the armed forces.

Mrs. Peter Berger will be in charge of the "sunshine baskets" to be taken to shut-in members.

Refreshments were served during the social hour when members were seated at a circular table gay with Christmas decorations with the centerpiece a branching candelabra holding lighted red candles and nestled on a base of pine tips. Heart sisters for the past year were revealed at the exchange of gifts and new sisters names were concealed in white paper doves used as ornaments on a small Christmas tree.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Wesley Runk, Mrs. Roy Williams and Mrs. George Sheen.

Miss Birdena Berger will be topic leader and Mrs. Antram will have charge of the devotions when the group meets again Jan. 13 at the church.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Dear Budgeteers: And all of those who are thinking, "What's for supper tonight?"—Isn't it awful? I am 44 years old and guess that's been my worst problem over the years... Just who can satisfy all the family? Here's a quickie that can be utilized to fit every family whether large or small. Takes no effort and is good for those emergencies!

We don't even have a name for it, but back in the old days, before I learned to change-it-around... my grandmother called it "Egg a la Golden Rod." Prepare some hard boiled eggs. (I usually cook one egg for each member of the family and this is a good idea and quite standard.) Peel them and set aside to cool.

After they are cool separate the hard yolks from the whites. Chop up the hard cooked whites in a bowl and put them aside.

KEEP THE YOLKS separate. Put these in your tea strainer or if you don't have one, GRATE them on the smallest part of your grater into another separate bowl! Set aside.

Make up a pot of gravy (any left over roast or ham gravy is delicious when added to whatever kind of gravy you are using!), or a nice cream sauce made from scratch is lush. Here is my basic recipe:

Three tablespoons of oil in a pot (any oil or bacon grease will do)

Add four level tablespoons of flour

One-half teaspoon salt and fresh ground pepper to taste Blend into a paste

Gradually add and stir in one cup of milk (powdered or otherwise) Cook sauce until thickened over medium heat, stirring constantly. This is a basic sauce that I have used for years.

IT CAN be varied by adding grated onions, green peppers or pimento or grated cheese! And used over noodles, macaroni, cauliflower, scalloped potatoes, etc.

Do NOT make this sauce until you are ready to prepare and serve supper. Take only a few minutes.

After the sauce begins to thicken, put any kind of left-over THIN sliced meat in it!

If you have no meat use canned chipped beef and I find that this is wonderful. Left-over cold bacon slices may be crumbled and dumped into it. Bits of ham, chicken, turkey or even pepperoni!

Then pour in your chopped egg whites just before serving because if you cook these too long they will become tough.

Put a piece of bread into your toaster (if you have a big family use your oven broiler so all of 'em can eat at once), cut the bread in triangles (I find if you cut them in fourths that it's much more appealing!) lay one "triangle" next to another in your plate then pour your hot "meat gravy" which contains the chopped egg whites over the toast.

Take the grated egg yolk (or tea-strained which is beautifully made when you gently PUSH each hard cooked egg yolk through the tea strainer!) and sprinkle this over the top of the luscious covered grav toast!

Yummy! Beautiful. Filling. Inexpensive, and you'll love it!

THIS MAY BE topped with paprika, or fresh ground pepper. Serve with a salad or something green (peas?) or red (sliced tomatoes?) and you really have yourself a good, inexpensive meal!

This is also a grand dish for those who don't eat meat on Friday. Tuna fish may be substituted for the meat. If you don't like tuna... just double the amount of hard boiled eggs! It's even better. More golden-rod on top!

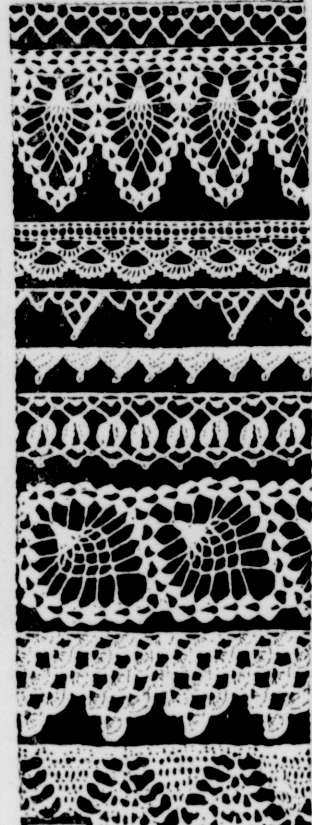

This is wonderful for a late Sunday breakfast. Suffices for brunch! This means that we "do with" only one other heavy meal and PICK for a late supper on Sunday nights...

And do you wonder why they called it "Golden-rod" years ago? Guess it is golden when it helps our budget, is filled with calories and can be made so quickly. Eh?

HELOISE.

He said he cannot discuss details of the abduction until the FBI finishes questioning him.

This base survey program predated Johnson's rise to the presidency by about 2 1/2 years. It was inaugurated by McNamara in March 1961, about two months after the Kennedy administration took office.

At that time, the Pentagon listed 6,700 bases and installations of various sorts, about 4,500 of them in this country and the rest abroad.

Since March 1961, the Defense Department says, more than 400 installations have been closed or reduced in scope. Claimed savings: about $316 million a year.

McNamara told Congress last January his goal was to take more such actions, so that by the end of the fiscal 1965-June 30, 1965—the annual savings will be increased to $442 million.

Nylon Reaches 25

By The Associated Press
Nylon is celebrating its 25th birthday this year.

The announcement of a new material that could be "fashioned" into filaments as strong as steel and as fine as the spiders web, and possessing beautiful luster was made at the New York World's Fair in 1938.

Yet the first commercial uses were for toothbrush bristles, fishing lines and surgical sutures. American women had just got used to the luxury of the gossamer hosiery yarns when the urgent requirements of World War II shunted the nylon supply into parachutes, ropes and tires on tanks and planes.

During the national crisis nylon also filtered blood plasma, went into protective vests, was woven into webbing, even shrouds.

But it's all in the name of progress. The Portsmouth Water Department had the old red fireplugs painted silver with color-coded trim.

A green-trimmed plug delivers 1,000 gallons per minute. A yellow one offers 500 gallons and red marks a small line with less than 500 gallons.

100 State Patrol Associates Fete Sgt. Mallory

E. W. Mallory, officer-in-charge of the Lisbon barracks of the state highway patrol before his retirement Nov. 12, was honored last night by members of the patrol at a dinner at the American Legion home in Lisbon.

Over 100 patrolmen who worked for Mallory or were closely associated with him in his 24 years of duty, attended the affair.

Mallory, who attained the rank of sergeant, was presented a retirement certificate and badge by Lt. Col. C. F. Strayer, assistant superintendent of the patrol, and given a rifle and pistol by his patrol associates. Other patrol dignitaries in attendance were Maj. H. T. Cowell, who accompanied Col. Strayer and the district officer-in-charge, Lt. C. W. Wipple of Warren.

Mallory spent 15 of his 24 years with the patrol in Columbiana County and will take over the reins as Salem city safety director Monday.

He served at the Salem barracks from 1943 until 1955 and at the Lisbon barracks from 1960 until his retirement. Mallory was promoted to corporal in 1945 and elevated to sergeant in 1955.

Mallory and his wife, Kathleen, reside at 1471 Franklin Ave. They have two daughters, Mrs. Marilyn Clements of Columbus, and Joyce, a sophomore at Ohio State University.

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT
Physical Fitness Important

Dr. Brandstadt

Physical fitness is like money in the bank in more ways than one. You can squander it but you can also get it back. It can be built up and maintained through a combination of factors.

Most important is an annual physical checkup by your doctor. Recognition of the warning signs of impending ill health can lead to preventive measures. Such measures are far more effective than treatment after a disease has become firmly established. A dental checkup twice a year is also important.

All athletic coaches urge the members of their teams to maintain a good state of nutrition, but you don't have to be an athlete to achieve such a state. The well balanced diet should include two glasses of milk and two helpings of meat a day. Bread or a cereal should be a part of each meal and you should get enough vegetable and fruit to make it unnecessary to use laxatives. When these requirements have been met, if you're still hungry, you can allow yourself a piece of cake, candy or cookies if you are not overweight.

AS WE GROW OLDER we tend to exercise less. Although a person who is over 40 does not require as much exercise as a child, he must give his muscles, heart and lungs a workout every day or their effectiveness will diminish. Fortunately the person who has allowed himself to get soft can regain his former fitness through a systematic program of increasing exercises.

Exercise that is fun is most likely to be faithfully adhered to. This may take the form of games but for persons who are 40 or over bodily contact sports or those that are highly competitive should be avoided.

IF YOU TAKE UP GOLF or tennis, don't feel that you have to rival the experts. Swimming, fishing, rowing, archery, hiking, badminton and dancing are excellent means of keeping fit. To be of value, however, they should be pursued two or three times a week and preferably every day. If this cannot be done, they should be supplemented with daily calisthenics. Exercise should be strenuous enough to cause a good sweat but should stop short of causing exhaustion.

If your heart is still fast and pounding hard five minutes after you have stopped exercising, you have overdone it and should increase your exercises more gradually. Bending forward is fine but bending backward and deep breathing exercises are not recommended.

REST AND RELAXATION should not be neglected in your physical fitness program.

These are favored by a change of pace, a hobby that doesn't require great physical exertion, and through sleep.

Heads Inquiry Into JFK's Slaying

Warren Shoulders Full Load of Duties

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren, keen-eyed and vigorous at 72, will shoulder his full load of Supreme Court duties while heading the presidential inquiry into President John F. Kennedy's assassination.

That is just an assumption, since Warren has uttered not a word publicly on his plans. But his associates and friends claim they know Warren's views quite well enough to predict his course.

He is resolved to absorb his extra load as chairman of the bipartisan presidential commission by working nights and weekends, taking advantage of holidays and court recesses, and possibly giving up all or part of his usual three-week Christmas trip home to California.

There may be one case, far ahead, which Warren will avoid. If the Supreme Court ever entertains an appeal from a Texas murder case involving Jack Ruby, the court's opinion is sure to carry a notation at the bottom reading:

"Mr. Chief Justice Warren took no part in the consideration or decision of this case."

Ruby, 52, is the man charged with slaying Lee Harvey Oswald on Nov. 24, two days after Dallas police charged Oswald with assassinating Kennedy. Ruby's pistol obliterated all hope of fixing Oswald's guilt by the only sure way, Oswald's own confession.

Thus Ruby not only is indirectly responsible for creation of the Warren commission but also figures heavily in its investigation.

There is now law or court rule which says a Supreme Court justice may not participate in a case in which he has prior knowledge or interest. It is up to the conscience of each justice. Warren's conscience, like the justice himself, works overtime.

Four Held In Forgery of Tax Checks

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two men were being sought as part of a gang—led, authorities said, by a former Internal Revenue Service employee and the manager of the 11th Ward Republican Club — charged with forging and embezzling more than $30,000 in federal income tax refund checks.

Four persons were arrested Wednesday after an investigation begun last spring by IRS inspectors, the Secret Service and postal inspectors.

In Cuyahoga County jail Wednesday night were Rheta D. Alford, 41, and Royal S. Dunlap, 53, both of Cleveland. Miss Alford became an IRS clerk early in 1956 and resigned last May, citing reasons of health. Dunlap is the Republican Club manager.

Released on $1,000 personal bond each were Mrs. Catherine McCroskey, 30, and Ira S. Pittman, 43, both of Cleveland. They were charged with assisting in passing forged checks. They are to appear at a hearing Friday.

All four were arraigned before U.S. District Court Judge

Ben C. Green, sitting as U.S. Commissioner.

Miss Alford and Dunlap waived preliminary hearing and were bound over to the federal grand jury. They failed to post $5,000 bond each.

IRS inspectors said numerous irregularities were disclosed in a routine audit last June and that Miss Alford worked in the office where checks go through.

CONVEYED TO PRISON

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and Chief Deputy Robert Beresford took a former Salem man to the Ohio State Penitentiary today to begin serving a sentence imposed upon him in common pleas court. Kenneth Kin-ser, 32, was sentenced to 1 - 20 years for forging a $250 check allegedly stolen from the Kanakal Coal Company in 1962.

While Kinser was out on bond, he went to Florida and was returned two weeks ago by Sheriff VanFossan and Prosecutor G. William Brokaw.

KILLED BY OWN CAR

Kyriakides said Mrs. Atcheson had the door open and was looking to the rear when she fell out while backing down a drive Wednesday.

Pitch for Medicare Made by Celebrezze

CLEVELAND (AP)—Former Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, in a speech to a joint dinner meeting of the Cleveland Academy of Medicine and the Cleveland Bar Association, made a strong pitch for a federal program of hospital insurance for the aged Wednesday night.

Celebrezze, now U. S. secretary of health, education and welfare, told the group that the proposed program would promote, rather than hinder, private business activity.

"It should be noted," he said, "that the establishment and successful operation of the old-age, survivors and disability social insurance system has not discouraged, as some feared, but instead has greatly encouraged the development of private retirement systems and an increased life insurance coverage."

He said that, when federal funds first were used to support medical research, fears were expressed that private efforts would be discouraged.

"This has not proved to be the case," he said. "On the contrary, private foundations, voluntary health organizations and industry have increased their contribution to medical research more than five-fold in the past 16 years."

He called the program of hospital insurance for the aged through Social Security a logical extension of the Social Security System, and said it was a necessary protection against possible high medical costs in old age.

"The protection afforded retired or disabled persons and their families, protection which they earned during their working years, is a major means of preventing poverty," he said.

Sawmill Employee Seriously Injured In Tree Mishap

A county sawmill employee was seriously injured shortly after noon Wednesday when struck on the head by a small tree felled as he was operating a bulldozer in a wooded area off the Clarkson Rd. beyond Fredericktown.

Charles T. Barrett, 58, of the Old Fredericktown Rd. was in critical condition today at East Liverpool City Hospital with a severe laceration of the right forehead and a fractured skull suffered in the mishap. He was admitted at 1:40 p.m.

Barrett, who is employed by his brother, Joseph Barrett, also of the Old Fredericktown Rd., was using the small dozer to cut a new road through a woods in preparation for moving a sawmill.

A nephew, Joseph Barrett, 21, was working a short distance away, cutting brush.

The small tree, about three to four inches thick, apparently snapped back over the top of the blade and struck Barrett on the head. One piece of the tree went past him, but another piece was still on him when the younger Barrett reached the bulldozer.

The younger man had to travel about a quarter of a mile to the nearest home to telephone an ambulance. After the ambulance arrived, the attendants had to carry Barrett about the same distance to the ambulance on a stretcher.

Motorist Succumbs To Heart Attack

James P. Powers, 64, of Glenmoor was pronounced dead on arrival at East Liverpool City Hospital after suffering a heart attack while driving his auto on the Y & O Road (county road 424) near Glenmoor at 2:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The Lisbon barracks of the State Highway Patrol said that when they arrived at the scene, the Glenmoor emergency truck was there and an attendant was giving Powers oxygen. The Patrol said Powers' car came to rest against a utility pole, but he apparently stopped it before it struck the pole because the only damage was to the car's license plate, which was slightly bent.

Davidson Shatters Ohio State Home Streak 95-73

Youngstown U., Mount Triumph

Two Area Schools Post 4th Victories

By HAL PARIS
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dandy Davidson, the little school from North Carolina, plays basketball in a big way. Coach Charlie Driesell's Wildcats stormed into St. John Arena Wednesday night, shocked a partisan crowd of 12,572 and shattered Ohio State's proud record of 50 straight home floor victories.

Davidson's 95-73 triumph tells a story of decisiveness. The Wildcats thoroughly dominated the contest with the smooth aggressiveness of professionals. "Anytime you beat Ohio State it's a good night's work," said Driesell after the rout.

"Sure it's nice to break that 50-game string. But we just played to win. Our fast break was beautiful, our shooting was great and all the kids played well. But our defense is what won it for us."

Bradd Gets 26 Points
So tenacious was that defense that Gary Bradd, Ohio State's big All-America, went 7½ minutes before getting a basket. Bradd wound up with 26 points for scoring honors but 17 of these came in the second half when the Bucks were never in contention.

The Southern Conference Wildcats trailed only 1-0, shot a sizzling 65 per cent in the first half to build up an 11-point advantage at intermission and were never headed.

Their pressing, aggressive defense controlled the ball and the game and their balanced attack found four starters in double figures.

Dick Snyder, a transplanted Ohioan from North Canton, aced the visitors with 25 points. Teammate Terry Holland contributed 22 and highly touted Fred Hetzel 16.

Salem's Don Davidson Finished With 11 Markers
"That's a heck of a team," said Fred Taylor, the Buckeye coach, sadly shaking his head. "We didn't do anything very well, but they had too much physically for us. We never challenged them."

Defiance Wins 5th
Central State and Defiance with their fifth victories, Mount Union and Youngstown their fourth, and John Carroll with its third rolled along the undefeated path in other Ohio activity Wednesday night.

Central State rallied from a nine-point halftime deficit and knocked Wilberforce (5-1) from the clean-slate ranks, 72-66—perhaps beating the NAIA to the punch. The association could decree forfeits of the five Wilberforce victories because of the questioned eligibility of two freshmen players on the varsity. The pair didn't play Thursday night. Ted day hit 27 points for the winners.

Purple Raiders Rally
Mount Union remained one of five teams unbeaten in Ohio Conference play with a skin-of-its-teeth conquest of Oberlin. Down 57-55, the Raiders tied it on John Dickerson's 25-foot goal with seven seconds left and swamped the Yeomen 8-0 in overtime for a 65-57 decision.

Ohio Wesleyan made its OC record 2-0 by trimming Marietta 66-50 behind Barry Clemens' 32 markers.

Defiance breezed past Tri-State (Ind.) 93-77. Youngstown routed Gannon (Pa.) 74-44, and John Carroll clipped Thiel (Pa.) 83-2 in a Presidents' Conference tiff.

Kent State trimmed Baldwin-Wallace 88-72. Findlay outdid Ohio Northern 113-101. Wilmington won its all-Quaker duel with Earlham (Ind.) 119-88, and Steubenville lost to St. Bonaventure 113-86, rounding out the card.

Unbeaten Lisbon (2-0) Friday plays host to Sebring, and the tall, talented Blue Devils shouldn't have too much trouble with the Trojans.

Coach Gary Pike's starting five average better than 6-2 in height. In its first two contests, Lisbon knocked off Wellsville and West Branch.

Leetonia, rebuilding its forces under the direction of Len Batcha, meets a scrappy Louisville

Friday, then battles unbeaten United (2-0) Saturday.

The only veteran on the Bears' squad George Zeppernick, 6-4 senior, scored 43 points in a Leetonia loss 93-86 to North Lima to open the campaign.

Winless Greenford (0-3) takes on West Branch (0-2) Friday. The following night, the Warriors go against Minerva.

Columbiana treks to Poland Friday. Both schools have (2-0) records. Canfield is at Niles,

Duke, Arizona State Are Upset; Unbeaten Michigan Whips Butler

By The Associated Press
It was a Black Wednesday for the Duke Blue Devils, the Arizona State Sun Devils and the Ohio State Buckeyes, three of the top-ranked teams in college basketball. They tumbled in defeat before the Vanderbilt Commodores, the Bradley Braves and the Davidson Wildcats.

Only the victory of the Michigan Wolverines over Butler prevented a complete rout of the top-ranked clubs scheduled to play on a busy midweek national program. The seventh-ranked Wolverines upped their record to 4-0 with a 80-70 victory.

Vandy similarly made its record 4-0 with a 97-92 triumph over third-ranked Duke. So did Bradley by whipping the fourth-ranked Sun Devils 92-85. Davidson also kept its slate clean at 4-0 with a whopping 95-73 triumph that shattered a 50-game home court streak for eighth-ranked Ohio State.

Vanderbilt, rated a title threat in the Southeastern Conference, blew a 16-point lead at Nashville when Duke rallied to tie the regulation game at 85-85 on Jeff Mullins' jump shot with four seconds left. But John Ed Miller broke loose for 10 points in the overtime to sew it up for the Commodores after the score was knotted at 89-89.

Arizona State also lost on the road at Peoria, blowing a 44-35 halftime lead as Bradley got hot in the second half.

It remained for Davidson, heralded as the Southern Conference champions to be, to provide the night's biggest surprise with its one-sided triumph over Ohio State. The Wildcats hit a sizzling 59 per cent of their shots and when their star, 6-foot-9 Fred Hetzel went out on fouls with only 16 points, Dick Snyder and Terry Holland took up the slack. Snyder finished 25 points and Holland 22 to offset the 26 tallied by Gary Braddis for the Buckeyes. It was the first setback at St. John Arena in Columbus for Ohio State since Purdue won on March 7, 1959.

702 Dates Set For Racing At Ohio Tracks Next Season

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Racing Commission has granted 702 racing dates—352 running races and 350 harness for Ohio tracks next season.

The number of races, announced Wednesday, represents the same amount of dates approved last year.

comm ission turned down—rh The commission turned down the application of a new association seeking 25 days of thoroughbred horse racing at Beulah Park in Franklin County.

The new group is called Buckeye Raceway Inc. It had asked for April 17-May 1 and Oct. 12-24 dates.

Bears' Halas Selected NFL Coach of Year

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — George Halas, the frisky, 68-year-old Papa Bear, has won one title, but would like another.

He's working on it.

In the midst of Halas' preparations for a likely do-or-die finale against the Detroit Lions Sunday for the Western Division title, Papa Bear was voted Coach of the Year in the National Football League by an Associated Press panel of sports writers and sportscasters from the 14 NFL cities.

If the Bears defeat the Lions, they will clinch the Western crown with an 11-1-2 record and be host to the NFL championship game at Wrigley Field against the Eastern champion—New York or Pittsburgh—Dec. 29.

If the Bears lose, and Green Bay wins Saturday at San Francisco, the Packers will snatch the Western title from the Bears, who have held or shared first place since the season started Sept. 15.

"This is a great tribute which I sincerely appreciate," continued the NFL pioneer and pro Hall of Fame member. "But I am custodian of the honor only because of the splendid job done by our players and coaching staff."

"Particularly, this honor reflects the tremendous performance by our defense which, I believe, now leads in 10 of the league's 13 defensive categories."

Would a sectional championship (the Bears' first since 1956) or even a league title (first since 1946) lead Halas into retirement?

"Let's cross that bridge when we come to it," said Halas, who has been associated with the Bears for 4 seasons.

Pitt's Brown Gains Weekly NFL Honors

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The wind flushed Ed Brown's face as he stood on his own goal line in punt formation.

"We had to pass. There was no way we could punt. We had to get out of that hole," said Pittsburgh Coach Buddy Parker. "Everyone knew what they were going to do. They had to run or throw," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry.

Brown took the snap from center. He didn't punt. He passed. Red Mack latched onto the pass for a 42-yard gain, and the Steelers kept rolling until Theron Sapp bolted 24 yards for the touchdown that gave Pittsburgh a 24-19 victory and moved them into this Sunday's winner-take-all battle with the Giants for the Eastern Conference title.

For Brown's ability to successfully complete the gamble the first time he had attempted to pass from punt formation this season, the 10-year-veteran was named today National Football League Player of the Week by The Associated Press.

Model Inks Browns' No. 1 Draft Choice

Warfield Signs With Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cleveland Browns President Art Modell, faced by stiff checkbook competition from the American Football League, made it clear in signing Paul Warfield that he will continue to follow a policy of not engaging in wild bidding. Modell wouldn't disclose terms of the contract signed by the Ohio State halfback Wednesday, but he said it was considerably lower than what had been offered by the Buffalo Bills of the AFL.

Reports were that the contract provided $15,000 a year for two years plus a $5,000 bonus for Warfield, who will wind up as either a flanker or a defensive back—assuming he makes the grade in the pro game.

While the Browns were corraling Warfield, their No. 1 draft choice, Don Shackleford, their fourth-round choice, moved into the AFL camp at Denver. Modell said the Browns dropped out of the competition for Shackleford, a 250-pound tackle from the University of Pacific, when the bidding "became ridiculous."

Modell put considerable personal effort into signing Warfield, but he said he made one tions, defensive back and flanker.

"We're leaning now to using Warfield as a flanker, but we'll teach him both positions," Collier added.

The coach noted that the Browns need more speed at flanker. Warfield is a 6-footer who weighs 185 pounds, was a sprinter and broad jump star on the Ohio State track team. He runs the 100 on 9.6 seconds. He is a good receiver but rarely got a chance to show it with the ground-minded Buckeyes.

Gilchrist Named AFL Back Of Week

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Cookie Gilchrist, who says he never has been interested in breaking records but does, won't say whether he expects to smash a few more Saturdays.

The 248-pound Buffalo Bills fullback named American Football League Player of the Week Wednesday by The Associated Press, goes against the New York Jets—the same team he almost single-handedly pulverized Sunday in War Memorial Stadium. Buffalo won 45-14.

The second meeting will be in the Polo Grounds in New York City.

Gilchrist was sitting on the bench in the fourth quarter of Sunday's game when the announcement was made that he needed only 32 yards to break the AFL's single-game rushing record.

Levy Resigns As Football Coach At USC

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Marv Levy, the young Phi Beta Kappa key holder who inherited a murderous schedule and an average set of players as California football coach, resigned suddenly Wednesday.

Levy, a surprise appointment in 1960 to succeed Pete Elliott, was brought to Cal after a 14-6 record at New Mexico. He was regarded as a good image for the state university trying to field teams made up of students bucking stringent grade and entrance requirements.

He leaves with an 8-29-3 record in four seasons—and the onus of having a 1-3 mark against arch-rival Stanford.

Like Stanford's Jack Curtice, fired late last year, Levy left after his best season, 4-5-1. The pressure on Levy began building up at the end of the 1962 season, but eased at the start of this one. The Bears' schedule pitted them against such teams as Notre Dame, Illinois, Duke and Pittsburgh.

The 38-year-old Coe College graduate and holder of a Harvard Master's degree in history said in his surprise dinner-hour announcement:

"I have decided that it would be in the best interests of the university and all parties concerned to resign. . . my reasons for doing so are personal in nature. It has been a wonderful experience working at the university and I wish every success to the members of the team in the future."

Navy's Roger Staubach Gets Heisman Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Now hear this from Navy's Roger Staubach:

"I have a lot to learn about passing. I figure I'll learn a lot more about football in the next year and a half. I'm going to work hard next season. I hope we can improve on this season's record."

That comforting news for Navy's opponents came from the All-America quarterback Wednesday night when he accepted the Heisman Trophy award as the top football player in the country.

Staubach led Navy to a 9-1 record, a No. 2 national ranking and a spot in the Cotton Bowl against top-ranked Texas. Jolly Roger was asked how he figures he has "a lot to learn about passing."

"Lots of times I wait for my receiver to get in the open before I throw," he said. "That's wrong. The pros throw to where the receiver is supposed to be."

Did that mean Staubach was interested in a pro career?

"I have received questionnaires from professional football teams but I haven't talked to anyone because I still have a year and a half at the academy and then four years of service."

Among the other things, Staubach discussed was the best team he played against this season, and the support he received from the entire Navy team.

"I can't say enough about the support they gave me. Tom Lynch would do anything for me on the field or off and I feel the same way about him. If I hadn't been getting that second block I'd be scrambled eggs." Roger.

Lynch, the Navy captain, and Coach Wayne Hardin accompanied Staubach to the Heisman awards dinner. They let Staubach monopolize the talking but Hardin had this to say:

"I think we have the finest four backfield men ever put together although I'll admit I never saw the Four Horsemen in action. Staubach is a stick of dynamite. Johnny Sai runs the 100 in 9.7 and can break up any game. Pat Donnelly is the finest fullback the Navy ever had. Skip Orr is our leading pass receiver."

"But," he emphasized, "I can't say too much about

New Books at Salem Public Library

FICTION

HEROD'S CHILDREN by Ivo Andric. A group of Jewish children in Vienna during World War II build a whole world of their own to try to survive Nazi persecution. Already a classic in Austria, this is a compelling piece of writing not easily forgotten.

BOSNIAN CHRONICLE by Ivo Andric. This novel, which was one of the principal reasons for its author receiving the Nobel Prize in 1961, is the story of a provincial town in Bosnia from 1807 to 1814. By the mastery of the telling, the author conveys a portrait of a people who have had a long history of oppression and bear the scars in their whole beings.

THE TEREZIN REQUIEM by Josef Bor. Beautifully translated from the Czech, this is the narrative of a Czech conductor Verdi's "Requiem" in a concentration camp where the daily experience is the disappearance of some of his key musicians and singers who have been carried off to the near-by death camp.

CLIFFS OF FALL by Shirley Hazzard. A group of ten short stories, all but one of which have appeared in the New Yorker magazine. The stories have a variety of backgrounds, they deal for the most part with love after it has diminished into a habit.

ALFRED HITCHCOCK PRESENTS STORIES MY MOTHER NEVER TOLD ME. Those who like the taste that Alfred Hitchcock displays in selecting tales for emphasis will be glad to see another of his substantial collections. Two novellas and twenty three short stories comprise this thick book.

THE BEACH OF FALESA by Dylan Thomas. This short novel is the story of a trader who goes to the South Seas and is tricked into marrying at once a native girl who is taboo to the natives. His struggles to overcome the evil of those around him finally have some success. There will be a motion from the book which will star Richard Burton.

The last one is dated April 14, 1962. They include the one in which he gave permission for publication after he says he will be "good and dead".

J.F.K. THE MAN AND THE MYTH by Victor Lasky. This much-discussed book, it has been reliably reported, will not be printed beyond the present number of copies already available. Whether one agrees with the author or not, even whether the author might now have second thoughts about his subject, the book was published before the tragic events of Nov. 22, and those who wish to do so should certainly have an opportunity to read it.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

My brother Russell has some very nice Christmas trees down here beside the Country Store. You can buy your tree here or go up next door to my mother's place and get one. If you wish you can go out in the field and pick your own.

Each year they sell perhaps more trees than anyone else in this area. These trees are grown right here on the farm.

The price for most of them is $2.50

Santa and the Haunted House

By LUCRECE BEALE

Synopsis: The children escaped from the Haunted House and decided they must go to Santa Land and warn Santa about Nog's cake.

(Chapter Nine)
A TRIP ON ICE SKATES
Jeremy, Sissy and Miss Jo bundled up in their warmest clothes. They hung their skates over their shoulders and started out for Santa Land.

The only thing Jeremy knew was that Santa Land was in the North and there was a river flowing through the Kingdom of Poo and it flowed from the North. The river was frozen over and Jeremy was sure they could skate all the way to Santa Land.

"Do you think you can do it?" he asked Miss Jo.
"Oh yes," she declared. "I can skate around the whole world."

A MOMENT LATER this didn't seem too likely because as soon as Miss Jo had fastened on her skates and scuttled onto the river she went plunk flat on her back.
"I'll help her," said Sissy. She helped Miss Jo up and held her hand. Miss Jo's feet shot out from under and plunk both she and Sissy were down.

Jeremy was skating ahead of Sissy and Miss Jo.

Jeremy's brow furrowed. How would they ever get there? But Miss Jo jumped up and smiled joyfully. "I just remembered. I can't skate forwards but I can backwards. She turned around and pushed with one foot and then the other and glided smoothly up the frozen river.

Jeremy signed with relief. He sped after Miss Jo and Sissy followed. For hours and hours they skated but it seemed they hadn't even gotten out of the Kingdom of Poo.

JEREMY'S LEGS ached and Sissy's ankles kept turning on their sides and Miss Jo—sailing along backwards—kept tripping over bumps and ridges in the ice, crashing down so many times she was soon black and blue.

The sun rose high and then started down. Miss Jo rubbed her bruises and said, "If I fall down again I'm just going to stay there?" Sissy said, "Oh Jeremy, won't we ever be there?"

"Soon," said Jeremy. "It's bound to be soon."
But little did he know how far it was or how many obstacles lay in their path. The first obstacle was around the next bend in the river.

Jeremy was skating ahead of Sissy and Miss Jo pushing out hard with one foot and then the other—push, glide, push, glide—eager to see what lay around the bend. Then he was around the bend and crack the ice split beneath him and splash he was in the water.

A sign saying "Watch out. Thin Ice" floated beside him. "Jeremy Where are you?" shouted Sissy, rounding the bend.

"Stay back" shouted Jeremy shivering with cold and fighting to keep his head above the icy water. "Stay back"

BUT IT WAS TOO LATE. Sissy shot through the ice and landed beside him.

"Miss Jo" screamed Jeremy frantically. "Stay away"
But along came Miss Jo, gliding backwards without a backward look and splash she was beside them.

Neither Sissy nor Miss Jo could swim and Jeremy couldn't swim too well even by himself. Now he held up both his sisters and kicked his legs which were weighed down with the skates. Whenever he could get his mouth out of the water he gasped. "Hang on. We'll make it" and pushed toward the edge of the ice. But every time he tried to grasp the ice it broke off and the hole got bigger and bigger. Pretty soon Jeremy knew they weren't going to make it.
